

Waterfall Creek by Maruia

Seen this Creek from the car, the waterfall just under the 800m mark is clearly visible and seems to have a fair bit of water. On google maps the waterfall is visible as well, the rest of the creek might be quite open but it is hard to say. Access looks difficult, vegetation appears to be beech. Access shouldn't be an issue but it might be good to talk to the farmer. There is a signs by the road saying Dunsinane Hill, these might be the landowners or they will probably be able to tell us who owns the land. Couldn't find a phone number.
